Examiner's Amendment

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.
 - (1) Claim 15, line 2, after "with" and before "black", delete "a" and insert "an oil-based".
 - (2) Claim 18, line 1, after "The" and before "substrate", delete "printed".
 - (3) Claim 19, line 5, after "with" and before "black", delete "a" and insert "an oil-based".
 - (4) Claim 20, line 5, after "with" and before "black", delete "a" and insert "an oil-based".
2. Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Tom Moses on 2/4/04.

Statement of Reasons for Allowance

3. The present claims are allowable over the "closest" prior art Titterington et al. (U.S. 5,780,528) and EP 936257 for the following reasons:

The amendment filed 12/16/03 cancelled pending claims 1-10 and added new claims 11-20.

In light of the amendment as well as the examiner's amendment (see paragraphs 1-2 above), the new claims now all require that the ink is "oil-based" and that the ink comprises "at least one oil-based solvent".

These amendments overcome the cited prior art of record, namely, Titterington et al. and EP 936257 for the following reasons. Both Titterington et al. and EP 936257 are drawn to substrate that is printed with offset ink as well as method of coloring a substrate which comprises contacting the substrate with the ink and then heating to fix the ink to substrate. However, both Titterington et al. and EP 936257 are drawn to phase change, i.e. solid, offset ink which is in direct contrast to the present claims which now all require oil-based offset ink. Further, there is no disclosure in either Titterington et al. or EP 936257 of oil-based solvent as now required in all the present claims.

Thus, it is clear that Titterington et al. or EP 936257, either alone or in combination, do not disclose or suggest the present invention.

Further, applicant's amendment overcomes the 35 USC 112 rejections of record.

In light of the above, it is clear that the rejections of record are untenable and so, the present claims are passed to issue.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
